

2014 EUCEN AUTUMN SEMINAR

Barcelona, Thu 06-Fri 07 November 2014

POSTER

TITLE	ONLINE LLL PROGRAMS. Are they necessary?
ABSTRACT	The internet and especially web 2.0 provides access to different open learning resources using advanced methods of communication and collaboration. The social internet makes a major impact in life-long learning approaches. Information Communication Technology (ICT) has transformed the educational programs in all aspects, from e-learning, to lifelong learning and continuing education. This study aims to present the views of teachers and educators on the implementation of e-learning to life-long learning programs in adults
KEY WORDS	internet, ICT, life-long learning, e-learning, teacher
AUTHOR(S)	Jenny Pange
SHORT BIOGRAPHY FROM EACH AUTHOR	Professor of Informatics and Applied Mathematics with emphasis at Educational programs, Former Dean of the School of Education, Director of the laboratory of New Technologies and Distance Learning at School of Education, University of Ioannina, Greece